SECRET HANDBOOK

Your guide to surviving your first freezer cooking day.

WWW.ONCEAMONTHMEALS.COM
Hi friends!

Welcome to Once A Month Meals!

We’re so excited that you are making time for what matters most.

Freezer cooking means more time with the people you love. Healthier meals, even when you are busy. You do the work once a month, twice a month, or every couple of weeks so that you have space in your day to rest and enjoy life. It isn’t your average meal plan - it is a meal plan that’s reality proof!

Speaking of reality, we know that gearing up to freezer cook can be somewhat daunting. Maybe you are the type that dives into a project headfirst, or maybe you read all of the instructions before you ever pick up a cooking spoon. No matter the type or experience, we’re here to help!

Whether you are standing in a kitchen full of food about to give up, or still sitting at your computer wondering what you got yourself into - we have been there! Read this guide from cover to cover or consult it in emergencies as needed - whatever works for your personality - but, make sure you read it! We put all of our resources and experiences here in one place so you can have SUCCESS!

You can do this! And we will be here to help.

Best wishes on the journey, and happy cooking!

Set Yourself Up to Succeed

We will not lie to you. Freezer cooking is not a stroll in the park. It is a marathon. But the finish line is SO worth it. That said, you need to make some preparations before you pump your fists and head to the grocery store.

How to Choose a Menu

You do not have to run the full marathon your first day! In fact, we recommend you opt in at the 5k level, a.k.a. the mini menu. This shorter approach to freezer cooking gives you 5-6 recipes doubled for 10-12 meals in about 6-8 hours total, sometimes less! (Includes shopping, prepping and cooking!)

Are you an experienced cook? Overachiever? Have a rare day off from work? Taking advantage of having a babysitter? Opt for one of our full menus. Each gives you recipes for 3 breakfasts, 4 lunches, and 8 dinners, and each recipe is doubled, giving you 30 meals! All of the prep and cooking will take about 12-18 hours.

Now all you have to do is choose the menu type that fits your dietary needs or preferences!

- Traditional
- Paleo
- Real Food
- Gluten Free Dairy Free
- Diet
- Vegetarian
- Allergen
- Instant Pot
- Slow Cooker
- Baby
- Mini and more!

ARE YOU MAKING EXCUSES?

How to Create or Customize a Freezer Menu

Control freaks, dieters, parents of toddlers, and food allergy sufferers - rejoice! Your membership allows you to fully customize your recipe choices for your cooking day and print documents for your specific serving size.

Here's how to get started:

1. Add one of our premade menus, or create your own menu.
2. Once you add a menu, start "swapping" your recipes to make changes. Swapping lets you search and filter our database of close to 6,000 freezer friendly recipes!
3. Use the tags and filters listed in our MenuBuilder system to make finding recipes easy!
4. Enter the number of servings you need. *The automatic default is 4 servings
5. Then print all of your updated documents! Double check your recipes and serving size to make sure it's exactly what you want before you print!

Let's Start Cooking!

3 Steps to Take Before You Start Cooking!

You dream of a freezer full of meals stacked neatly in zippered baggies — but you may be unsure exactly how you are going to make that dream a reality. Well, we’re here to walk you through the course before you start the race!

*Count down to your big cooking day using our suggested timeline (in the yellow boxes!) to break up the tasks into manageable pieces so you aren’t overwhelmed or exhausted by doing it all at once.

1. Read ALL of Your Documents.

But really. Read, then read again.

A freezer cooking instruction sheet is unlike anything you’ve ever seen in a meal plan before. It will tell you the best and most efficient way to tackle your to do list; so, get familiar with the steps. Make sure you have all of the equipment you need. Scan through your grocery list and see what you already have on hand. Then start making room in your refrigerator and freezer!

HOW TO PREPARE YOUR KITCHEN FOR THE BIG DAY

Counters
Remove nonessentials like dishes, decor, and coffee pots. Put them in another room temporarily if you must, otherwise, your counter space will fill up quickly!

Tables & Other Surfaces
Grab that picnic table in the garage, or something else and get creative! Use it as a station for pantry items, chopping, appliances, cooling food, packaging, and more!

Refrigerator & Freezer
Eat leftovers, toss expired foods, and make room for groceries and bowls on prep day. Eat any freezer meals, random bags of veggies, or cartons of ice cream cluttering up the freezer too.

Dishwasher & Trash Can
Empty them! Because you’re about to fill them up! You might even want and extra one!

WWW.ONSEAMONTHMEALS.COM | 11
2. Grocery shop, then stop.

Go shopping before you cook. It could take anywhere from 30 minutes to 3 hours to complete your shopping trip(s). More if you need to visit multiple stores or live out in the boonies. This also depends on how many meals you are making.

You want to leave yourself plenty of time to compare prices, double check your list, and to answer for the third time why you’re buying 25 bell peppers. You are NOT going to want to do this on the same day you freezer cook, so plan ahead!

8 PRACTICAL TIPS FOR THE 1st Time Freezer Cook

1. Rest well & start early. The best cooking days happen when you get to bed early, then start early!

2. Wear comfy clothes & shoes. You’re gonna be standing up and running around a lot, so make sure you stay comfortable!

3. Eat an easy breakfast & fill your water bottle. Keep breakfast simple so you have less dishes, and always stay hydrated!

4. Follow directions! All of them! READ. Before you start anything, read all your directions to make sure you don’t miss anything!

5. Display your recipe cards. Use holders or tape them to cabinets or walls so you can easily reference them during the day!

6. Clean as you go. Simple, but necessary. You will be reusing a lot of your kitchen items, so be sure to clean!

7. Don’t stop or sit down! Really. Don’t do it. You may never get back up. It’s a long day, but you’ve got to push through!

8. Give yourself some grace. Okay, maybe a lot. Break the work into two days if you need to. (Prepped food will keep just fine.)
3. Do Not Skip the Prep.

It's crucial to prepare your ingredients ahead of time.

Even if you hate spreadsheets, do not toss this prep list!

Ever notice how cooking looks so easy on TV, and that all of the ingredients are already chopped and ready to go? Well friend, that's what we want for you! The prep sheet tells you what and how much to thaw, pre-cook, chop, slice, and dice to make cooking go as fast as possible.

Get your sharpest knife going, and prep all your ingredients the night or day before your schedules cooking day. Also be sure to check out how other members prep before their big day by searching through the hashtag #onceamonthmeals on Instagram!

YOUR COOKING DAY CHECKLIST

- Print Your Menu Documents. (Two weeks before cooking day)
  Read and use all of the resources. You won’t regret following instructions.

- Grocery Shop! (One week before cooking day)
  Remember, you should plan a separate day for your grocery trip.

- Prepare Your Ingredients! (The day or two before cooking day)
  Do this the night before your cooking day. Don’t forget to set up your kitchen too so you can start first thing in the morning.

- Cook All the Things! (The day of cooking day)
  Work your way through the recipes in the order you find them on your instruction sheet.

- Share Your Progress! (Throughout it all!)
  Snap a pic and share it on Instagram or Facebook! Don’t forget to use #freezercooking #onceamonthmeals so we can find you!

How to Keep Your Food Fresh

1. Choose the Right Containers.

Packaging is important. The less air you have inside the better. Our go-to containers are the plastic freezer bag and foil baking pans because they are easy to lay flat and stack. But there are many options of the disposable and reusable varieties. The key is a quality seal, so don’t be afraid to spend more for a quality product.

2. Cool Your Freezer Meals.

Simply put, warm food inside the bag + cold air outside the bag = excess moisture. This condensation then freezes into ice crystals. Yuck. Be sure to completely cool your food before you seal and freeze. Yes, this takes extra time, but that is why you are planning ahead!

Our Favorite Freezer Containers

1. The Baggie Holder
2. Ziplock Freezer Bags
3. Pyrex Glass Containers
4. Neatos Bags
5. Foil Baking Pans

3. Know How Long Your Freezer Meals Last

This is a high frequency question, and the simple answer is that food rarely (if ever) spoils in the freezer. BUT it does lose quality over time. For freezer meals, 3-6 months is a good rule of thumb for freshness.

Freezer Organization

We know. They all look alike once they’re in the freezer, so organization is essential!

- Label Meals. Print your custom labels complete with the recipe name and instructions for thawing and eating on serving day. Don’t forget to add the date!

  Note: OAMM labels are formatted for Avery 8168/5168 labels.

- Keep a freezer Inventory. Add new meals to a running list of all of the meals, side dishes, frozen veggies, and ice cream in your freezer, and cross them off when you use them. Know what is inside the freezer without even opening it!

Make a Plan for Dinner

Your freezer is full, but now comes the traditional meal planning part. The real life part. You still have to decide what’s for dinner each week and plan to thaw and eat it.

1. Meal Plan from the Freezer

Unlike some meal planning sites, we are not going to tell you what to eat each day of the week. Your schedule is unique, and your meal plan should fit your life! But we do have some samples for you to look at and a helpful calendar template.

2. Remember to Thaw Safely

We will tell you that the key to eating from the freezer is giving your meals time to thaw. So leave yourself a sticky note or set an alarm on your phone to remind you. Most dishes will take 24-48 hours to thaw in the refrigerator. If you have a large piece of meat or casserole pan, plan for the upper end of that. Don’t risk your health by trying to thaw more quickly on the counter. And don’t risk the quality of your dish by rushing it through the microwave.
